PORT AND HARBOR COMMISSION RECEIVE PRELIMINARY REPORT

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, this week, received Phase "A", preliminary planning report, from the firm of Michael Baker, Inc., Consulting Engineers.

The report consists of five sections, each outlining various findings, facts and figures. These sections are as follows: 1. Environment and Economic Conditions; 2. Waterways; 3. Potentials and Industrial areas; 4. Potential Fresh Water Supply; 5. Finance.

In each of these, the engineers have outlined their findings, including Historical, Geographic, Topographic and Climatic Conditions, and existing Land Use. Each of these categories have been subdivided, findings explained in detail, and suggestions made as to the proper use and value of unused and marsh lands, etc.

The report goes on to say, "The County does not possess any natural resources that places it in a unique position in the attraction of industry. Forest proximity to shipping lanes is considered as the County's primary natural advantage."

Based on various conclusions, the report recommends that the Port and Harbor Commission actively promote the passage of amendment to existing State Port legislation to insure Hancock County the same sources of revenue for port and industrial area development that are presently available to other Coast counties.

It would be wonderful if a copy of this report could be seen by more interested people of the County, as it touches on every detail of possible development in our County.

HANCOCK'S SHARE IN MARCH OF DIMES AMOUNTED TO $1516.81

A stepped-up fight against crippling arthritis and birth defects will follow the successful January March of Dimes campaign, according to Dr. A. L. Gray, State Health Officer and state chairman for this annual fund appeal.

Dr. Gray, as he paid tribute to the effective work of volunteers throughout the state, announced that a goal of $300,000 for Mississippi had been achieved.

In Hancock County, contributions amounted to $1,516.81, according to the report of Mrs. Theo Tudury, who served as campaign director.

Pointing out that two vaccines (Salk and Sabin) developed by medical research financed solely through March of Dimes funds have almost eliminated polio as a public health menace in this country, Owen Cooper, Associate State Chairman for the March of Dimes, said there is every reason to anticipate similar success in the health organization's fight against crippling birth defects and arthritis.

Dr. Gray and Mr. Cooper paid tribute to the outstanding work of local volunteer workers and expressed appreciation to all who gave.

The state chairman said, "It is gratifying to see this concrete evidence of interest and awareness of the tremendous need for support of the March of Dimes' fight against two disastrous crippling, birth defects and arthritis. This kind of support will keep the attack through research and patient care operating effectively."

A Special Birth Defects Treatment Center at the University Medical Center, Jackson, supported by March of Dimes funds will begin its fourth year of operation July 1. On that date, a Special Arthritis Treatment Center program at the same institution will begin operation with March of Dimes support.

The objective of these Treatment Center programs is to offer expert diagnostic and evaluation services to patients referred by physicians throughout the state, and to provide the best care and most effective treatment known to modern medicine.

March of Dimes funds are used locally by the county chapter of The National Foundation to provide aid for treatment of children with crippling arthritis, birth defects and polio. Chapters with sufficient funds may also offer scholarships for training in the health professions.

Over seventy-five percent of total March of Dimes contributions in Mississippi since The National Foundation was founded in 1939 has been used locally by county chapters.

Mrs. Tudury of Bay St. Louis is also chairman of the Hancock County Chapter - The National Foundation - March of Dimes. Mrs. Charles Benigno is Treasurer.

NOONAN - SALLEY TEENERS IN JAYCEE TWEEN-AGE ROAD-EO

Barbara Noonan and Douglas Salley won first place in the Jaycee Teen-age safe driving Road-EO Saturday at Our Lady of the Gulf School Yard.

Each received a plaque and will be entered in the State Road-EO at Clinton May 8.

Suzette Brown and Ronald Lashley placed second, while Artha Garcia and Robert Brown were third. They were given bronze Road-EO keys.

Other entries, Chuck Breath, Stanley Weidman, Jeff Wallett, Jay Lagasse, C. J. Favre, Louis Di Salvo and Susan Pucheau, each received a Road-EO patch.

Susan was the only one of the 13 entries to receive a perfect score on parallel parking.

The driving portion of the contest was conducted by Sheriff Sylvan Ladner, Police Chief Lathan Garriga, Highway Patrolmen William Kenny and Jimmy Davis.

Al McGarry, project chairman, said the girls excelled in the driving, but fell behind in the written test. However, it was noted that more than half the boys had driver education training, but only one-fourth of the girls. The overall average of the girls was the same as the boys, McGarry added.

That the top three boys had completed driver education training and the only girl to complete this training placed first in the girls' division.

While the number of entries was less than anticipated, McGarry termed this year's contest a success as it interested a new group of drivers, rewarded the best drivers and forewarned it demonstrates the value of driver education training.

Entries were from Bay High School, St. Stanislaus and St. Joseph Academy.

GENERAL MEMBERSHIP MEETING APRIL 20
A general membership meeting of the Hancock County Chapter of the American Legion will be held at 7 p. m. Monday, April 20, at the American Legion.

Hancock Board May Take Action

The Hancock County board of supervisors is considering asking the county ports and harbors commission for a recommendation on a plan to redistrict the county.

Beat one Supervisor Harlan G. Dean made the proposal at a Monday meeting of the board.

No formal action was taken, however, since all five supervisors were not present for the meeting.

Board President R. G. Hubbard Jr., said, redistricting of supervisory beats was also discussed, inconclusively at an informal meeting of board members last Wednesday night.

The Hancock County board has stated its intention of redistricting but has been unable to reach agreement as yet on a plan of action.

Hardin Shattuck is president of the seven-member ports and harbors commission which may be asked to give the issue consideration. The commission is made up of five members appointed by supervisors and two by the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

COMMUTER DECISION IN MONTH

A decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission is due within the next 30 days on whether to permit the Louisville & Nashville Railroad to discontinue operation of two commuter trains between Pass Christian and New Orleans.

The regular fourth-month period set aside for ICC investigation of the railroad's proposal runs out early in May.

ICC initiated the investigation last January when numerous commuters and local officials raised opposition against L&N's proposal. Under the line's proposal, announced in late December, trains Nos. 8 and 12 would be removed from service because of a continued loss from operations.

Parties opposed to the plan claim the railroad has made no effort to increase passenger patronage, improve schedules and condition of equipment, and, is taking away a service which is essential to the continued growth of the Gulf Coast area.

ICC's investigation, including public hearings on the subject, has been completed and an examiner's report should be issued around May 7.

WARNING

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said this week it has been brought to the attention of his office that a couple of stores in the county are selling beer to minors.

A check, he said, is being made and anyone caught doing so will have his license revoked and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Ketchikan's lay off

Soft crabbing and floundering is still not on the best side. Too much high tides and winds. A few catches have been seen out front but catches have been small. Should improve by the end of the week.

Arnold Palmer did it again by winning for the 4th time the Masters Golf Championship last weekend by a score of 278 after a slump which he overcame. He defeated his nearest rival, Jack Nicklaus by six strokes. Palmer showed his greatness before a large crowd of followers.

Sandra - Rayne, another golf champion won the first Capital City Open at Baton Rouge Sunday at the Sherwood Forest Country Club. Sandra is 20 years old and tips the scales at 105 pounds. It's not the size that counts when playing golf, it's the know-how.

A picture in Monday's Times-Picayune showed the top fishermen and winners in the 19th annual Big Bass Fishing Contest at City Park in New Orleans. There were 893 registered in the contest. Anglers were registered in three divisions: spinning, fly fishing and bait casting. Think people like fishing?

FAIRBANKS - The sun never sets for 147 days and never rises for 145 days on Ellesmere Island near the North Pole. Should have plenty of hours up there for fishing with 147 days and nights to fish.

Of the 52 species of fur-bearing animals in the Great Smoky mountains, those most common are black bear, white-tailed deer, foxes, racoons and bobcats. Times-Picayune.

OYSTER "R-MONTH" MYTH

The belief that oysters are good to eat only during months that have an "R" is a myth, according to the Department of the Interior.

Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries says that oysters usually reach their peak of perfection in May and June - months that have no "R" in them.

Oysters are fatter and taste better in spring, the Bureau says, because at this time they begin to store glycogen, an animal starch, in preparation for the spawning season in summer.

During summer and early fall, oysters become thinner, their nectar becomes comparatively watery and their flavor declines. The fattening cycle usually does not resume until October or November.

The harvest of oysters, however, usually begins in September or October - at a time when oysters generally are not at their best.

For those who like to go to other places for fishing, here is a report about fishing over the state:

Fishing reports over the state are better this week. We have had reports of excellent fishing at Dump Lake, Eagle Lake and Percy Quinn State Park.

There seems to be more catfish being caught than any of the other species.

Catfishing has been good on all the tributaries to the reservoirs in north Mississippi.

It is expected that Crappie fishing will be better in the reservoirs with the slowing of the rain, fall and a few days of sunshine.

Speaking of catfish, there is no better eating fish. They have only a backbone. The meat is excellent when cut in small stakes about half-inch thick and fried. Small ones can be tenderloined and fried crisp.

There are plenty of catfish in our streams here about. They are caught mostly on trout lines and set lines. There are several species of fresh water cats, all being of excellent eating quality. The channel catfish found in virtually every body of water in the state averages about 5 pounds but gets as large as 60 pounds.

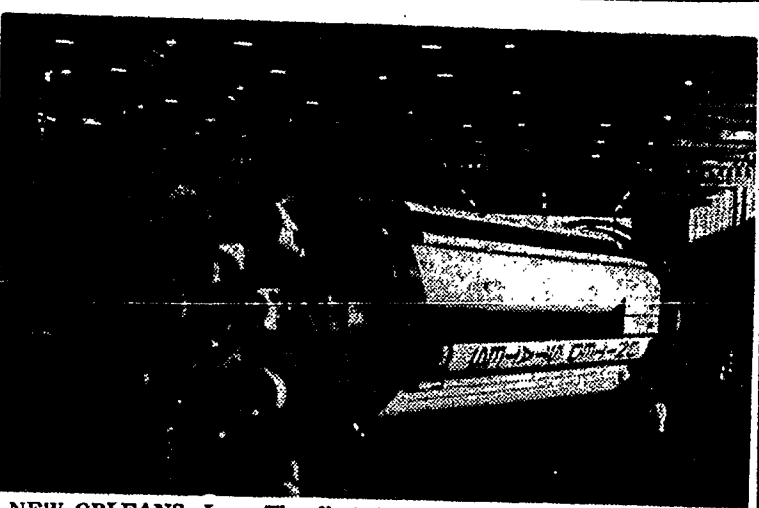

Commercially, it is valuable as it is considered the cleanest of all catfish.

For visitors, Bay St. Louis offers white sand beaches ideal for bathing, soft crabbing and floundering with ideal spots for fresh and salt water fishing all the year round. Excellent accommodations are found most anywhere. Fishing spots are within a couple of miles from the city and are full of all kinds of fish waiting to be caught. Plan a vacation trip to our section if you like any kind of sports. You will enjoy it!

NEW ORLEANS, La. - The first Saturn I booster built at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Michoud Operations is rolled into position for final preparation for shipment to its static firing site at the Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala. The rocket is scheduled to depart Michoud next month for the 1,100-mile barge trip up the Mississippi, Ohio and Tennessee Rivers. The booster, topped with a live second stage, will orbit a meteoroid detection satellite when it is launched next year from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Fourteen Saturn I and Saturn IB first stages will be built at Michoud by the Chrysler Corporation Space Division for use in the nation's Apollo manned lunar landing program.

Now that frogging time is here, saw quite a few of them lately. They are found mostly along the banks of most bayous, ponds and in lakes. Frog legs are a delicacy and they can be caught by hand or with frog legs or grabbers. For eating, frog legs are hard to beat. The common bull frog grows rather large.

Did you know that fiddlers are the best bait for catching sheephead. On the railroad bridge it is ideal for catching them along side of the pilings. Fiddlers are caught on sandy beaches on warm days. They are tough and sheephead don't take them off so easily.

STENNIS GIVES HIS VIEWS ON RACIAL DEMONSTRATIONS

WASHINGTON - Almost every day here on the floor of the Senate itself, we have heard Senators refer to the direct action and street demonstrations which the racial agitators are threatening unless the Senate bows to their demands for passage of extreme civil rights legislation.

In another major speech on the Senate floor this week, I pointed out to the Senate that the deliberate purpose of these plans for "direct action" by extremist groups is to create a situation in which violence is inevitable.

Statements in the nation's press this week report plans of the various extremist groups to send lawless mobs back into the streets if there is delay in acceding to their demands, or if the pending civil rights bill is weakened in any respect.

Governors of States and Mayors of cities and towns, and local law enforcement agencies will, of course, try to control the situation when they are "invaded" by paid agitators and racial trouble-makers.

But in some instances, the demonstrations will quickly get out of hand, and true to the threats and predictions made on the floor of the Senate, violence will result.

The President of the United States should make it known that he will withdraw his support of this legislation until such time as he has been assured that plans for resorting to violence have been abandoned. I know the President does not want such violence.

PROPER PREPARATION OF WOOL MEANS BETTER MARKET PRICE FOR STATE CONVENTION

The higher the price the individual wool grower gets for his wool, the greater incentive payment under the National Wool Act, Tommy E. Shaw, Chairman of the Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, reminded growers today.

He stressed the need for improving the quality of the wool going to market so that the grower will receive the best possible price for his wool.

The National Wool Act, the chairman explained, was enacted in 1954 to encourage the domestic production of wool. The incentive payments on shorn wool, authorized by the Act, are made at a percentage rate which is determined by the rate the percentage required to bring the national average of the prices received by all growers for wool sold during the marketing year up to the previously announced incentive level. This percentage is applied to each grower's net sales proceeds from wool to determine the amount of his program payment for the marketing year.

For the 1963 marketing year, ended last December, the payment has just recently been announced at 27.8 percent - the percentage necessary to bring the 48.5 cent average price received by growers last year up to the incentive level of 62 cents. This means that the wool grower receives a payment of $27.80 for every $100 he received from his sales of shorn wool during the 1963 marketing year.

Naturally, the better the quality and preparation of the wool, the higher the market price, Mr. Shaw pointed out.

The importance of marketing a quality product is underscored by an industry-wide campaign now underway to encourage the proper preparation of wool for market. Both industry and government are cooperating in the broad program to alert producers about the proper shearing and packaging of their wool. While it is too late to affect wool sales for 1963, producers are urged to take steps to improve their upcoming 1964 clip.

The objective of the industry-wide program is to improve the preparation of the domestic wool clip in order to provide users of domestic wools a raw material that does not require extra work and unnecessary handling in the textile mill - a quality product which processors will find advantageous to use in competition with man-made fibers and imported wools.

As developed by the Industry-Wide Lamb and Wool Planning Committee, the program emphasizes the importance to both the grower and the industry of such practices as proper shearing and scouring techniques; eliminating unscourable branding fluids, black fibers, tar, and chemical stains; avoiding jute and other extraneous contamination; separate packaging of tags, crutchings, face and hock wools; and improvement in the individual wool package.

"Improve your wool and you'll get a better market price and a higher payment under the national wool payment program. It's as simple as that," the chairman said. He suggested that wool growers consult with their county extension agent or their wool marketing agency if they have questions on how to shear and pack their wool to get the best possible price.

1963 WOOL INCENTIVE PAYMENT SET AT 27.8%

Shorn wool payments for the 1963 marketing year will amount to 27.8 percent of the dollar returns each producer received from the sale of shorn wool during the period April through December 1963. Tommy R. Shaw, Chairman of the Hancock Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. The rate of payment was determined recently by the Department of Agriculture as the percentage necessary to bring the average wool price of 48.5 cents per pound up to the previously announced incentive level of 62 cents per pound under the national wool program.

Producers will receive an incentive payment of $27.80 for every $100 received from the sale of shorn wool during the ninth year of the program. This compares with a payment of $30 per $100 of marketings for the 1962 marketing year. The payment rate on sales of shorn live lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be 54 cents per hundredweight. This payment on sales of live lambs that have never been shorn is based on the shorn payment and is designed to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before marketing. The payment rate compares with 57 cents per hundredweight for the 1962 marketing year.

According to the Chairman, county offices will begin making payments (soon after April 1) within a few days, this year. Applications for payment had to be filed not later than January 31, 1964. The payments will be made on shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed from April 1 through December 31, 1963. This year completes the shift of the wool program from a marketing year to a calendar year basis. Payments on 1964 marketings will begin in April of next year. The percentage method of payment under the national wool program is designed to encourage producers to improve the quality and marketing of their wool. Under this method, the producer who

NASA News..

The Army District Engineer at Mobile, Alabama, has called for bids for two major construction jobs at NASA's Mississippi Test Operations, the new proving ground taking form in south Mississippi, for testing rocket engines and stages for use in the Apollo manned lunar landing program.

Bids will be received on April 30 for the construction of a Test Maintenance Building, which will be built immediately adjacent to the nearly completed Site Maintenance Building. It will consist of a concrete slab on grade, a structural steel frame supported by piling, insulated metal and tilt-up concrete panels, and lightweight concrete or gypsum roof deck with built-up roofing. About 64 feet high in a central bay and 38 feet high in the two sides, it will contain a floor area of about 45,000 square feet. Two reinforced concrete test cells, 12 feet by 16 feet, will be built next to the building for testing pieces of equipment while moved from the Test Maintenance Building through illuminated glass view ports in the test cells. A paint shop, with a floor area of about 1,365 square feet will also be constructed. Bidding is restricted to small business concerns.

Bids will be received on May 19 for the construction of the first of two test positions in a giant dual-position stand for ground firing the S-IC stage of the mighty Saturn V moon rocket. The job will consist of building the concrete structure for the two positions and then completing one test position with all necessary services to make it ready for use. Work on the stand will include the construction of three concrete piers each approximately 158 feet high, a structural steel tower approximately 100 feet high on the east and central piers, a steel flame deflector, work platforms, ladders, hoists, cranes, piping, electrical work, elevators, heating, air conditioning, and plumbing. Support facilities will include two steel instrumentation towers; a concrete observation bunker; a test control center; tanks and piping for air, gaseous helium, gaseous nitrogen, liquid oxygen, and RP-1 rocket fuel; a service canal; barge unloading facilities; and all necessary utilities and paving. It is expected that the construction contract will amount to around $10,000,000.

Excavation and piling placement for the big rocket stand are now in progress by the Greenhut Construction Company, Inc., of Pensacola, Florida, and the substructure will be built to grade by Peter Kiewit Son's Co., and C. H. Leavelle and Co., of Omaha, Nebraska, joint venturers, under contract with the Mobile Engineer District. The complete structure and appurtenances were designed by Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, gets the best possible price for his wool also gets a higher incentive payment.

On February 1, 1964, payments under the National Wool Act for the 1962 marketing year totaled $765.25 in Hancock County.

Dr. of St. Louis, Missouri, also under contract with the Mobile Engineer District.

The Mobile District of the Corps of Engineers is serving as NASA's agent for land acquisition, engineering, design and construction at the Mississippi Test Operations.

A joint venture composed of George A. Fuller, Company of Dallas, Texas, and Warrior Constructors Inc., of Houston, Texas, has been awarded a $1,067,868.05 contract for the construction of an electronics, instrumentation and materials laboratory at NASA's Mississippi Test Operations in Hancock County, Mississippi.

The award covers construction of a one-story structure of precast concrete panels with approximately 53,850 square feet of floor space housing technical systems to support test firing activities.

The facilities of the laboratory will be utilized to maintain, service, calibrate all electronic and instrumentation equipment; perform functional tests and analysis in analytical chemistry, metallurgy, and hardness of materials; maintain and service television, motion picture and still cameras; and process still and motion picture film.

Work is expected to get under way shortly and to be completed in May 1965.

The Corps of Engineers sent advance notices soliciting bids on this job to 2369 contractors and material suppliers, furnished plans and specifications on request to 18 prime contractors and 211 sub-contractors and material suppliers, and received 6 bids from prime contractors.

On April 17 bids will be opened at the Mobile district office of the Corps of Engineers for constructing mooring facilities at the cryogenic dock at NASA's Mississippi Test Operations.

The mooring facilities will be used in mooring barges transporting liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen, rocket fuels which must be kept at extremely low temperatures.

The work to be performed includes the construction of 27 rolling mooring devices, 12 reinforced concrete mooring piers, and 155 linear feet of steel "H" piling, 1,100 cubic yards of concrete, and 100 tons of structural steel.

Bids for the cryogenic dock mooring facilities will be accepted from small business concerns only in the interest of assuring such firms a fair share of Government contracts.

Bids will be opened at the Corps of Engineers district office at Mobile, Alabama, on May 19, 1964, for the construction of a dual-position stand for ground firing the S-IC stage of the mighty Saturn V moon rocket.

Foundation work for the new third stand will include clearing about 22 acres, excavating about 205,000 cubic yards of material, installing a dewatering system, driving approximately 38,700 linear feet of steel or concrete piling, constructing a 138-foot by 144-foot pile cap containing over 1,000 tons of reinforcing steel and 7,500 cubic yards of concrete.

GAINESVILLE, MISS. - Two contracts totaling almost $8 million were awarded today by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Mobile District, for additional construction at NASA's Mississippi Test Operations.

The joint venture of Broadway Maintenance Corporation and Glantz Contracting Corporation, Long Island City, New York, received a contract for $4,397,000 for construction of extensive facilities for handling rocket propellants. The second contract for $3,537,025 was awarded to the joint venture of Leslie Miller, Inc., the Power Engineering Company, and Donovan Construction Company, of Fort Worth, Texas, for the construction of a large high pressure water and heating facility to service the test stands.

Rocket propellant facilities at MTO will include a control building, unloading pumps and storage tanks at the RP-1 dock; similar facilities at the cryogenic dock for handling propellants which must be kept at extremely low temperatures; RP-1 distribution piping to the test complex; rail car and trailer unloading pumps and storage tanks; and various auxiliary and safety facilities. The project is expected to be completed in April 1965.

The high pressure water and heating facility will provide industrial water under high pressure to the rocket test stands for cooling flame defectors during firing operations. The system will also serve as part of the heating and air conditioning system for the
